Deutsche Telekom's foundation

Deutsche Telekom AG founded its Deutsche Telekom Stiftung [1] foundation in 2003. The organization currently has a foundation capital of 150 million euros, making it one of the largest corporate foundations in Germany. It is dedicated to improving education levels in science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM subjects) throughout Germany. The foundation also encourages employees to get involved in teaching STEM subjects at day care centers and schools. Focus points include early education, classes & more, teacher training, talent development, and creating awareness.
